

ArxNimbus Recognized by Gartner for Leadership in Cyber Risk Quantification

[Chicago 2020] — ArxNimbus (<https://www.arxnimbus.com/>), the leading provider of financially-driven cyber risk quantification through its patented Thrivaca™ platform, has been named by Gartner as a select vendor in key categories including Digital Risk Management, Cyber-Risk Quantification, and Financial-based Data Risk Assessment (FinDRA).

“We are thrilled to be recognized by Gartner, especially at a time when businesses are increasingly seeking data-driven, financially-informed approaches to managing their cyber risk,” said R. David Moon, CEO and co-founder of ArxNimbus. “This acknowledgment reaffirms our commitment to delivering actionable insights that help organizations better communicate cyber risk in terms the C-suite and boardrooms understand — dollars and cents.”

To learn more about Gartner’s “Hype Cycle for Risk Management, 2020 Report” by Jie Zhang, visit the Gartner website (© Gartner – login required).

###

About ArxNimbus

Founded in 2016, ArxNimbus set out to revolutionize cybersecurity by applying actuarial quantitative risk management to digital risk exposure for organizations of all sizes. Backed by the sponsorship of US Strategic Command, ArxNimbus developed the patented Thrivaca™ Risk Profile—the only NIST-approved solution for generating a financial rendering of comprehensive cyber risk exposure. With Thrivaca, organizations can enhance their existing risk management strategies, recover costs, reduce unfunded liabilities, tackle tech debt, and minimize litigation risks—all while securing vital management support for cybersecurity investments. Trusted by enterprises and cyber insurers alike, ArxNimbus delivers accurate, actionable insights, verified by researchers, actuaries, and economists. Recognized as a veteran-owned, Gartner Peer Insights Cool Company and honored by Pepperdine University as a Most Fundable Company, ArxNimbus is also celebrated as one of the top cybersecurity innovators by Momentum Partners' Cyberscape.

For more information, press only:

R. David Moon
CEO & Co-founder
888-422-6584
Email: info@arxnimbus.com
Website: arxtnimbus.com